

KROHN
10 YEAR OLD

Wiese & Krohn was founded in 1865 by two young Norwegian cousins, Theodor Wiese and Dankert Krohn. Since then, the company has built a remarkable reputation for its cask-aged Port wines, particularly its 'Colheitas' or single harvest tawnies, where it maintains reserves of rare 19th-century wines.

VINIFICATION
The 10 Year Old Ports are old Tawnies with a great complexity and the typical aromas and flavours of wood aged Ports, with lots of nuts and caramel. Krohn 10 Year Old is made from selected red Ports grown in the best vineyards of the Douro Valley. The wine ages in small oak casks, generally holding about 630 litres, where there is a relatively small volume of wine compared to the surface area of the vessel, so contact with the wood is proportionately greater. As it matures in cask, Tawny Port gradually loses the deep red 'ruby' colour of youth and takes on the seductive amber hue known as 'tawny'. At the same time the wine becomes progressively smoother and mellower, its aromas gaining in richness and complexity.

TASTING NOTES
A harmonious and elegant, balanced wine that combines the freshness of the ripe fruit with the rich aromas of raisins, dates and jam.
